THE WORLD OF INTERIORS ■ PARTNERSHIP

1 Design Centre, Chelsea Harbour celebrates makers and artisans. Creating bespoke pieces is another forte, and many designs can be adapted to suit individual needs. Tapping into the extensive knowledge in the showrooms, peerless products showcase artisanal techniques, respect for materials and an openness to innovation. Pictured: 'Bloody Mary' drinks trolley by Ceccotti Collezioni.

2 The Design Avenue is a spectacular addition. The 930sq m atrium, notable for its impressive height, will showcase a continuous roster of compelling pop-up exhibitions and installations. Enhancing the world-class programme already established, it will create additional ways for visitors to discover new luxury brands and enjoy innovative exhibits.

3 This is the place to discover the highest concentration of design's biggest names – all at one address. On every floor, there are designs of originality and invention conjured up by world-famous global brands. All are carefully selected for their quality, creativity, skilled craftsmanship and technical ability. From fabrics to furniture, tiles to lighting and much more, it represents the ultimate design collective. Pictured: A selection of the latest autumn/winter 19 launches.

4 Nowhere else is guiding luxury interiors with such an assured hand. In their diversity and ambitious agenda, new international openings are emblematic of the changes to be found at Design Centre, Chelsea Harbour. They include Frato, Lincrusta, Collier Webb, David Hunt Lighting, Morris & Co, th2 and Turri whose 'Zero' pouf is shown here.
