

KIDS' ROOMS

9 The right lines

For their daughter's bedroom in their Milan home, furniture designer Francesco Meda and Alessandra Orsi, a creative director and illustrator, devised a light, airy scheme with striped walls – created by Alessandra – and fabrics evoking the deckchairs found at the Venice Lido. The romantic canopied daybed is by Piero Castellini Baldissera, all textiles are by C&C Milano and the 'Costanza' floor lamp was designed by Paolo Rizzatto for Luceplan in 1986 (dalwindesigns.com).

10 Sunshine state

Soft grey walls (Earthborn Paint's 'Cat's Cradle') provide a muted backdrop for Farrow & Ball's joyful 'Yellow Ground', which bathes the shutters and floor of this upbeat room in year-round sunshine. The space was created by interior designer Jo Berryman for her daughter and features a Made.com sofa, Designers Guild rug and custom-made coffee table. It's the perfect hangout, with a silver chest of drawers from Graham & Green and a Nordic Nest tassel light adding a flamboyant touch (joberryman.com).

Centre stage

LA-based interior designer Sarah Sherman Samuel's son Archie was promised bunk beds in their new family home, so that's exactly what she made him. Their cocooning feel is emphasised by being placed inside a curved alcove, which is theatrically framed by velvet curtains. Spotted H&M Home bedding and a rug by Justina Blakeney for Loloi lend the space a mischievous feel, while a moon-like ceiling light by Cedar & Moss and walls decorated in 'Oakmoss' paint by Sherwin-Williams reflect the woodland that surrounds the house (sarahshermansamuel.com).

PICTURES: BENEDICTE DRUMMOND/PHOTOCOVER, HELENO BARRETTA/PIPING INSIDE